THERMAL AND VISUAL COVER

KUNE

Exclusively Made in Italy, this special cover is realized with an innovative fabric possessing special chemical-physical features that give to this concealment passive device the capability to interact with IR spector radiation (NIR, SWIR, MWIR, LWIR, FIR) thus making possible extremely versatile and effective camouflage for the special operators:

- Concealed figures are not detectable, not identifiable and not recognizable by the most advanced systems based on electro-optometric sensors for detection of thermal emission sources in the infrared field comprising other sensors operating in the IR Field (MWIR, LWIR, FIR) operating from air or surface,
- NOT targetable by ground or airborne heat-seeking or IR targeting systems (E.G. SAR air-to-surface missiles and UCAV combat drones)
- NOT detectable, not identifiable and not recognizable by the most advanced sensors and identification equipments based on VIS-NIR-SWIR technologies.

ADVANCED ANTIDRONE

ASPIS

Aspis is a 12v, low power UAV countermeasure system that can create an invisible electronic shield with a radius in excess of 1 km horizontally & vertically that is impenetrable by all currently available commercial drones using either 2.4 or 5.8 GHz for control.

When a drone attempts to enter the exclusion zone created by Aspis, the countermeasure signal denies the operator control, video & telemetry downlink.

The system can be used to create an electronic no fly zone.

Aspis is available in either portable rapid deployment systems or permanently located systems.
